

Green. Building. Solutions.

Social Media Scholarship Green.Building.Solutions. (GBS) Summer University, Vienna

July 13 - August 01, 2026

We are looking for a motivated student who wants to join GBS 2026 as a social media expert. Are you eager to share your summer experience with a bigger audience?

Join us on a social media scholarship, help us with social media posts and take part in the GBS Summer University for free!

Task: Creating and publishing posts and stories on YOUR and the GBS social media platforms (Instagram, LinkedIn, Facebook, BlueSky) before and during the GBS Summer University. Content can be the deadlines, announcements, participants, insights, topic of lectures, excursions and other activities / news about the program.

Goal: Raise awareness about sustainable topics in the building sector and present its future challenges as well as increasing the engagement with our followers.

Duration: start upon agreement, 3 months prior to GBS start until GBS ends; we support you with inputs for your posts / stories (if needed)

What's your exact duty?

Content Creation & Posting:

- 1 post + 1 story per week for the GBS Summer University before start
- During your participation in GBS: at least 2 posts/reels and 3 stories on all your and GBS channels per week.
- Topics e.g.: your personal experiences in this international environment, GBS lectures and content, social and leisure activities in the group, excursions and building visits, project work, impressions from living in the OeAD-Guesthouse, ...

Where to post?

We expect you to have accounts on at least 3 of the following channels with a minimum of 1.500 followers at one of them: Instagram, LinkedIn, Facebook, BlueSky, Tik Tok

Your profile: you are ...

- a "Social Media Native": you like to share stories, posts and interact online with your community
- a student with main studies in architecture, urban planning, engineering and similar fields
- an enthusiastic and convincing writer and photographer
- experienced in content creation, social media marketing, promotion and communication

- What you get: Free participation in the GBS Summer University (excl. accommodation; see "Whats Included")
- Participation certificate and certificate of BOKU University (7 ECTS)
- A unique opportunity to gain hands-on experience in social media marketing while promoting a topic of societal relevance
- Recognition and visibility through your posts and content creation
- Recommendation letter

*Accommodation is NOT included, but available for a fee of EUR 300,-

Interested?

Apply by filling the GBS application (Application Form) with a video statement and send us a mail explaining why you are the ideal candidate for this scholarship including a suggestion for a first GBS post on a topic of your choice. Please also include the links to your social media accounts in your mail and share your follower count! Application deadline: March 8, 2026

We are looking forward to your application and your suggestions & ideas!
